ST. FRANCIS DE SALES SCHOOL NEWS

St. Francis de Sales students are excited to be back at school as the second semester begins. Many classes are wrapping up projects at the end of the first semester. The fifth grade class is wrapping up the novel unit A Christmas Carol by Charles Dickens. The students created pop-up books that focused on various reading strategies and literary terms in the text. The fourth grade class is learning about Wisconsin history. They are creating commercials and posters that convince people to visit or vacation in our wonderful state. They are moovelous! Udderly fantastic! Students have many things to look forward to in the second semester. We are very excited to welcome new students and returning virtual students during this second semester. We are also looking forward to celebrating Catholic Schools Week at the end of the month.

FEAST OF ST. FRANCIS DE SALES

As we celebrate the Feast of our Patron Saint it is important to remember his great love of all humanity. He was born in France and was known for his love of the everyday lay person and the demands of their time and effort caused by the daily labors to survive. Therefore, he wrote many devotions for those who were busy in the fields and the cottage industries. Most devotionals and prayer books at his time were written for first level clergy and those who were part of secular orders. But he wanted all people to have special prayers and devotions to use daily. Hence it would be good to reflect as we celebrate St. Francis de Sales' feast and ask ourselves what special prayers and rituals do we have in our lives that connect us to God and the world around us as St. Francis taught to his community of Faith in Geneva where he was Bishop.

WHO CARES?

Without a doubt, the answer to that question is St. Francis de Sales! God's blessings on you who gave so wholeheartedly during Advent & Christmas. Also, to those special 'Elves' who delivered carload upon carload to our designated charities: You're the best!

You, our parishioners, have an open heart for our seminarians, for the little ones, for hungry families and those caught in dire situations. Keep looking up and outward in 2021 as we truly are the Light on the Hill, loving others for our Lord's sake.

LETTER FROM FR. BEDA

Hi SFDS Parish,

Happy 2021 on this 16th day! We have learnt from Molly about the school supplies that you have been putting together ready for shipping to St. John Baptist School ("Academy").

It is such a relief for teachers and parents to have these supplies for our kids. We thank you and we pray for God's abundant blessings in this new year.

We have 134 enrolled kids so far and the number is increasing fast. We are putting a lot of efforts to build up two classrooms and two dormitories are going to be a need soon.

We are sorry that our intention to visit you last summer was impossible due to covid19, neither the efforts of some of you to visit us. Let us pray that there will be a better protocol to live with Covid19 in this year and future.

Pass our regards to all parishioners in St. Francis de Sales.

Thank you

Fr. Beda Bernard Kiure (MD).

FEASTS OF THE PRESENTATION & ST. BLAISE

The early part of next week February 2nd and 3rd we celebrate two Feast days that have a long and powerful history in our Church. The First on February 2nd is called, The Feast of the Presentation." This feast calls to mind the Jewish custom to Present a new born child to the Lord after the days of waiting. It was the tradition in many Catholic homes to keep the nativity sets up until this day. This is also called Candlemas Day because when Jesus is presented at the Temple he is spoken as a "Light to the Nations." This day was celebrated with the blessings of candles which were brought home to be used either as votive or vigil lights in the home for special family devotions and prayers. This tradition is not followed as often today but some families still do. So if any would like to have special candles blessed we will bless them after the Sunday Mass. This will be done by letting our Ushers know and placing the candles on the step of the Altar and Father will bless them after Mass.

The Second Feast Day on February 3rd is the Feast of St. Blaise. This feast day also involves candles but for a different reason. We may have heard the story of a young person who was choking to death because of blockage in the throat. Bishop Blaise helped to bring the child back to health. The story would have ended here, except as some of you may have heard me mention in weekday homilies and historical writings I have done one of the most aggressively anti-Christian emperor Diocletian was in power. Of all the Emperors he killed or jailed more Christians than any Emperor in Roman History. St. Blaise lived in his period and was jailed in the area today known as Armenia. Imprisonment then was nothing like today. They fed you and gave you a nice dark cell but very little more. As a gift to Bishop Blaise so that he could continue to read the Scriptures in his cell, that same family whom St. Blaise from which he had saved their child brought candles to his dark and dingy cell in thanks giving for their child's life. Thus we have carried on the tradition of Blessing Throats with crossed candles wrapped with Red Ribbon as a reminder that St. Blaise was a martyr and through his intercession with the gift of healing of the throat by removal of the blockage presented God's grace of healing to this family and every family. Consequently, the weekend of January 31st at our Masses, we will have a general Blessing of Throats, (because of the Diocesan Directives) followed by a sprinkling right connecting us to this wonderful healing moment in the history of our Church. And so we pray: St. Blaise, Bishop and Martyr, we ask for the healing of all ailments of the throat and every other illness, as we remember the healing power of God wrought through your intercession in Christ Jesus Our Lord. Amen

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS MONTH

As we celebrate Catholic Schools month I would like to begin this section recalling the words of Philadelphia's Bishop when reflecting on Catholic Schools and their past Bishop St. John Neumann who began the system of Parish Catholic Schools in the United States. For Neumann, schools were not an end in themselves. They were a means to an end. And that end was the building up of the Church, the salvation of souls, the ennobling of young minds and the conversion of American culture. More than 150 years later, the conditions we face in many of our towns and cities are very different. In some ways our situation is much more difficult and yet also easier. Nonetheless, the goal of Catholic education remains the same. Today much of the News media have already suggested that dozens of poorly attended, financially troubled Catholic schools should be asked to combine or close; but if we are honest as a Catholic Parish and Community; more than a careful pruning of our educational system for the health of the larger mission is clearly necessary. Public school systems, both locally and nationally, have had to face the same tough decisions of how to move into the future. But the substance of our role as the Catholic Schools of Philadelphia (Milwaukee) must be much more comprehensive and much more positive than the closing of our schools. It must be as Archbishop Dolan, St. John Neumann of Philadelphia, St. John Newman of Oxford and St. Thomas Aquinas our greatest educator asserted: That our Catholic Schools become the foundation for a vibrant missionary community using all that's best in education to create a stronger future for the Catholic Church in America (World) by forming our youth through our schools into the living and active presence of Christ in the world. As we celebrate Catholic Schools our present challenge at St. Francis de Sales as in so many parishes is this. To always have that opportunity open and alive to all and any of our Families the gift which Catholic Schools provide in the vision of such great Catholic thinkers as St. John Neumann if we are going to keep the moral fabric of our country strong and healthy. Catholic Schools are not just an option but a mission of our community. As Archbishop Cousins would point out, a mission of the whole parish.

LENTEN REGULATIONS AND PREPARATION

As We enter the Lenten Season and some of our other special feast days which we celebrate over the next couple months, it is important to realize there are still restrictions in some areas of Church Ritual that will continue to be in place until the whole Catholic Community feels that it is appropriate to move forward. As you will notice the Bishops asked us to follow the tradition found in a number of European Nations in how certain Blessing are done differing from what we are used to in the United States as with the Blessing of Throats mentioned in another article in this bulletin. Another area deals with the distribution of Ashes and Palms in our homes. The distribution this year as directed by Rome and the US Conference of Catholic Bishops will not be with a cross on the forehead but an initial general Blessing with the words as used when the cross is traced on our forehead, followed by a sprinkling rite with the waters of Baptism. For those who wish to receive the actual ashes special lines will be set up where a little will be sprinkled on the top of your head with NO bodily contact and both the Minister of the Ashes and the Recipient MUST WEAR FACE MASK. With the restrictive directives from Rome and the Bishops let us remember that we can still make these days wonderful and exciting days of Reconciliation and Repentance as we journey through this Lenten Season. We will still have Stations of the Cross and other devotional celebrations to help us in this period of Lent. Fr. Ray Guthrie
